BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY STORMS AXIS LINE AT ENFIDAVILLE

OVER 30,000 PRISONERS IS ALLIED CLAIM

Further Advance of British Is Halted by Heavy Artillery on Road To Tunis

AIRFIELDS BATTERED

BY ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Allied headquarters disclosed today that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th Army had begun to storm the main Axis defense line at Enfidaville, 50 miles below Tunis, and that German and Italian prisoners captured since March 20 had risen to 30,000.

"Our troops continued their advance on most sectors of the Tunisian front," a communiqué from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced.

The war bulletin said Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's British 1st Army pressed its offensive north of Medjez-el-Bab, 34 miles southwest of Tunis, and seized "an important feature over difficult country in the face of strong opposition."

The "feature" was subsequently identified as a strategic mountain top, eight miles north of Medjez-el-Bab and 30 miles west of Tunis, where more than 200 Nazi Alpine troops were captured in fierce fighting.

Of the 30,000 prisoners taken since Gen. Montgomery opened his offensive against the Mareth Line, 190 miles south of the current battle region, dispatches said 23,000 were Italians.

The German high command said repeated Allied thrusts were frustrated in "embittered fighting" and asserted that "minor breaks in the Axis lines were closed" by counter-attacks.

Italian headquarters reported "lively fighting all along the front, particularly in the western sector," where the British 1st Army is operating.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's last-straw grasp on the North American bridgehead at least three main sectors, and it was likely, too, that the Axis chieftain was feeling the pinch of dwindling air strength as the Allies officially recorded more than 199 enemy planes destroyed since Saturday. At least 19 Axis aircraft were shot down and others destroyed on the ground yesterday.

Along with the British 1st Army's advance in the north, Allied headquarters announced that Gen. Montgomery's 8th Army troops "are in contact with the enemy defenses on the Enfidaville line."

Enfidaville marks the southeast coastal anchor of Marshal Rommel's 100-mile defense zone guarding Tunis and Bizerte.

French forces continued their successful advance in the range of hills to the west of the Enfidaville line and yesterday captured over 400 prisoners," the Allied communiqué said.

Frontal attacks said Marshal Rommel still had about 10 airfields left in his fast-shrinking corridor and cautioned against counting out German air power in the North African theater too soon. Nevertheless, the destruction of some 200 Axis planes in five days, including 134 big fuel-carrying transports, was a severe blow to the enemy and sharply demonstrated superiority in the skies.

The lost transports, it was estimated, could ferry 10,000 tons of badly needed supplies to Rommel monthly by making a round-trip a day.

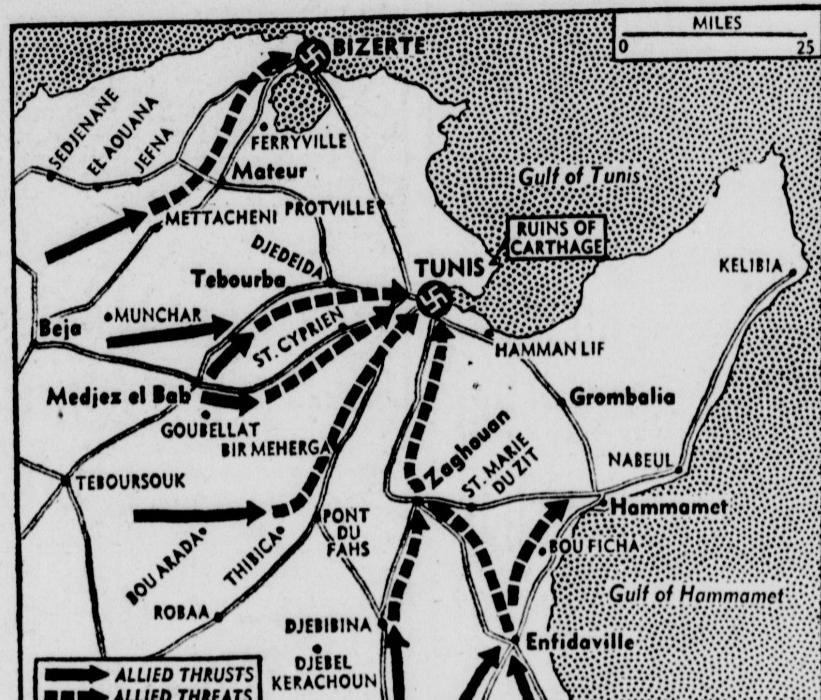

Meanwhile, Allied warplanes attacked both ends of the Nazi homeland, with RAF blockbusters delivering a "very heavy" assault on the war foundries city of Stuttgart (Pop. 410,000) in southwest Germany, and other planes, presumably Soviet, raided East Prussia.

Twenty-three RAF bombers were lost in the Stuttgart attack, it was announced.

German night raiders countered with raids on East Anglia and Thames estuary towns. Air-raid alarms shrilled briefly in London, but no bombs fell in the capital.

Defense Council Officials Check Results of Test

All Roads Lead to Tunis

And a few, of course, lead toward Bizerte. Map shows how American-Canadian-French attacks are closing in on the last two Axis strongholds on the northern tip of Tunisia. Mountains will make the job more difficult.

State Trying To Collect On WPA Contract

Bill Offered By Sen. Davis Claims Government Owes $5,923,126

CONSIDERED BY HOUSE

Washington, April 15.—(AP)—Another step has been taken by Pennsylvania in its effort to collect $5,923,126 from the federal government.

A bill (S 135), introduced by Sen. Davis (R-Pa.), which would permit Pennsylvania to present its case before the United States court of claims, has passed the senate and now is being considered by a house subcommittee in claims.

The state's claim arises from an agreement with the Public Works Administration entered into on October 15, 1937, for the construction of 80 projects at an aggregate cost of about $60,000,000. It is the state's contention, as it was outlined by John H. Dando, chief counsel of the General State Authority set up to deal with the projects, that the government promised the state a relief-labor grant of $10,000,000 but that thus far only $4,076,573 have been received.

The government contends on the other hand that the state has received all the money it was entitled to receive under the terms of the relief-labor grant.

The pros and cons of the matter were outlined to the senate committee on claims in a report running into thousands of words, plus numerous supporting documents which were filed with the committee for the inspection of the congress.

The bill passes the house and is signed by the president of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania then will be permitted to present the whole matter before the United States court of claims. A clerk of the house claims committee said there was no indication when the sub-committee will make its recommendation to the full committee.

Play Shoes Are Back On Rationing List

Washington, April 15.—(AP)—Play shoes shipped from factories are back on the rationing list.

Shortly after shoe rationing went into effect, existing stocks of play shoes mostly were exempted from rationing because of the reluctance of people to use coupons for non-essential footwear. Since stores had stocked these shoes without any warning of rationing, OPA gave them a few weeks to get rid of their stocks.

Beginning today, play shoes shipped from factories will be stamped with the date and may be sold only with coupons. Such shoes shipped before today remain unrationed.

New 'Markup' System For Vegetables

OPA Makes Preliminary Move to Bring Down Garden Produce Costs

POULTRY IS MENTIONED

Washington, April 15.—(P)—OPA prescribes a new "markup" system of pricing fresh vegetables at retail today while officials intimated that the step was a preliminary to bringing down the cost of garden produce in compliance with President Roosevelt's order to reduce the cost of food where possible. Poultry also has been mentioned by officials as a likely candidate for similar price trimming.

Complaints about vegetable prices now constitute the bulk of "kicks" received by OPA from the public. Prices soared in the wake of canned goods rationing. Frosts and other damage in some growing localities complicated things.

The first step, taken last month, froze prices of seven key vegetables at then current levels. Today's order, which goes into effect April 22, sets the maximum retail price on each of the seven products at a fixed percentage above

Book By Margaret Bourke-White Is Much In Demand

Every time a new shipment of books arrives at the public library there is recurring surprise at the quality of books that are being written about this war in the midst of it. Casualties among journalists three to four times as high as in the armed forces furnish grim evidence of the risks taken to give us books which are the best ever written while a war has been in progress. Vivid, straightforward writing has also come from our men in the armed forces. Such books as "They Were Expensive", "I Saw the Fall of the Philippines", "Quadalcanal Diary", "Into the Valley", "Queen of the Flattops", "H. M. S. Corvette" and "There Go the Ships" are but a few that will be permanent pictures.

Margaret Bourke-White, global photographer who is to appear on the Y. M. C. A. lecture platform in Warren this week, has given us one of the best and most popular of our Russian ally, "Shooting the Russian War" is as personal and dynamic as her camera. Prose and pictures are simple, clear, rich in color, humor and detail. Her photographs of Stalin, whose face she considers the strongest she has ever seen, are a masterly combination of candid and portrait photography and her remarks equally fresh and revealing.

An intuitive impulse carried Margaret Bourke-White and her famous writer husband, Erskine Caldwell, to Moscow in May, 1941. She arrived there with five cameras and six hundred pounds of photographic equipment in all. Two months later the Germans attacked and she obtained the only photographer's passport given a non-Russian. Her book is illustrated with almost a hundred of her pictures showing the effect of the war on Russia. Her simple, simple manner of writing make it difficult to realize the risks she has taken to bring back these remarkable pictures and story.

Her personal charm, wit, sincerity and ingenuity make it understandable that she was one of the few admitted to photograph the Russian leader. And that she should be a thoroughly enjoyable and informative speaker. "Shooting the Russian War" has been the most popular of the recent books about Russia in the public library's collection and deservedly. It is seldom seen on the library shelves but reserves may be made at the circulation desk or over the telephone.

Blackout Is Pronounced As a Success

Pennsylvania had a 35 minute air raid test last night and on the whole it was a successful one, but as usual there were a few spots about town where the sirens were not heard and some delay ensued in getting lights out. Run under the new rules promulgated several weeks ago the test, on the whole, was perhaps the most successful of any that has been held since the new rules were used.

Three incidents were telephoned in during the time the blackout was on and they were attended to in good shape but no equipment was sent out.

Soundings of the signal disrupted the Players Club meeting at the Woman's Club and assistant Commander Arthur Langdon reported at the Control Center adorned in all his make-up which he had donned preparatory to appearing in the second play of the evening.

Commander Forest Waite announced staff practice for the evening of April 22nd, and asked all to be on hand for this practice. This meeting will be a practice contamination work.

CHIMNEY ABLAZE

At 8:24 last evening a chimney fire in the house at 438 Prospect street owned by John Mader was extinguished by the Fire Department with slight damage. The air raid alarm which followed soon after was confusing to many who thought it was sirens on fire trucks sounding.

Plans Made For Community Sunrise Service On Easter

Many Christian folk of Warren and the surrounding communities had country-side will make a short pilgrimage to the head of Jackson street early Easter morning to celebrate the anniversary of the Resurrection. As the sun rises over the mountains to the east this band of pilgrims will be devoutly engaged in prayer and praise to the progenitor of the faith that binds together in spiritual fellowship those peoples of every race and clime who profess the name Christian.

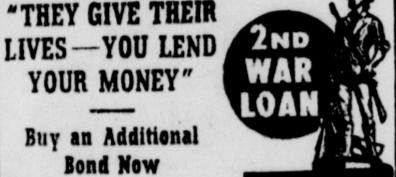

This is the first attempt to hold such an out-door sunrise service on Easter morning with all the community cooperating. Various sections of the borough and several churches have had such services in the past and several of them will hold them again this year. However, many churches, as well as other organizations, felt that they would like to have a unified service this year with the entire community participating. To that end a representative committee of youth and adult leaders met and planned a very fine and, they hope, effective service.

The service will begin promptly at 6 a. m. and will last an hour. Rev. Wayne Furman, pastor of the First Methodist church will be the speaker. Special music will be supplied by a vocal quartet under the leadership of Harold Knappenberger, Jr., and a brass quartet under the leadership of Major Daniels of the Salvation Army.

The exact location for the service will be the south lawn of the Irvinadele School. This is a 15 minute walk from Conewango avenue. Anyone driving to the service is asked to share his car with those unable to walk that distance. Further details and notices of the service will be published later.

FROM ONE WHO KNOWS

At the regular noon meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday, Sgt. George Williams described Japan's treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor.

Stationed at Hickam Field when the "Nip" struck, Sergeant Williams told of the terrific destruction and loss of lives, and painted a vivid word-picture of American gallantry that saved that important base from falling into Japanese hands in the first few days of the war.

Since returning to the mainland, Sgt. Williams said he had heard remarks as to the rivalry between the different branches of the service, and pointed out that no such rivalry exists in the battle areas. "There," he said, "everybody is mad at just one thing, and that's those Nips."

Sgt. Williams also recounted some of his experiences in bombing raids, and told how costly such raids are, and asked that those on the home front lend their dollars by buying War Bonds.

Sgt. Williams has seen service over a broad area in the South Pacific, and took the opportunity to mention the importance of the Red Cross Blood Bank which will visit Warren again next Monday and Tuesday. Sgt. Williams said he was seriously wounded and but for blood plasma he wouldn't be here today.

GARDEN COMMITTEE BUSY

That story on the first page of Wednesday's issue emphasizes the fact that the Victory Garden Committee for Warren has been and is now doing a swell job in their particular line of endeavor. On the other hand, according to reports, they are meeting with enthusiastic response and interest on the part of citizens of the community that is most encouraging.

It is extremely important that residents of Warren participate in the Victory Garden program. They will need the additional food next winter—need it more, perhaps, than people living in the rural areas.

Area Key Gardeners have been named. The time is growing short. If you haven't yet made any gardening plans, contact your Area chairman or the Victory Garden committee, for information about available garden plots, plowing and seeds.

In this connection very timely articles on planning and working Victory Gardens are being printed almost daily in the Times-Mirror, and many of them are worth saving for future reference.

EASTER FLOWERS

Easter has never been as late as it will be this year in the memory of old-time florists. Because of this, many of the gay tulips, jonquils, azaleas, won't be blooming for the Easter Parade, reminds a well known staff correspondent for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror.

A dispatch from Pittsburgh Tuesday warned of a scarcity of palms for the coming Sunday, although Warren churches are reported to have received supplies for the occasion.

Traditional Easter lilies will not be plentiful. There will be only a quarter as many blooms on the market this year, at a fifty per cent increase in price. Before the war, many of the bulbs were imported from Formosa. Now they are American-grown at greater labor costs.

Florists see a shortage in flowers during the summer season, due to labor and the war, but promise enough for civilian morale.

CALVARY THOUGHTS

"What think ye of Christ?"—Matt. 22, 42.

Thoughts run in many channels when we approach the Easter season as did they who were present at one of the world's greatest scenes. But as believers in Christ we must have our own thoughts, shall we for a moment seek to find out the thoughts of those who formed the four groups around the cross?

1st Group—This group composed of Roman soldiers, reading scripture to describe how they stripped Jesus and placed a "Crown of Thorns" upon His head, this action on the part of the Roman soldiers was utterly degrading.

2nd Group—These people represented the howling mob, today we have this same class of people, strikes, civil wars, war lords etc., and the most of this class of people laugh at the religion of Jesus Christ.

3rd Group—The scribes and the chief priests, these custodians of religion were actually mocking Jesus. Oh that people were not blinded to the things of God, that they could see and think themselves, without being swayed by this one and that one.

4th Group—The mother of Jesus, His mother's sister, and Mary Magdalene, with the disciples. These people understood Jesus, they could tell you what they thought of Jesus, and I would know their answer, what think ye of Christ.

Among His Souvenirs

Stamp News

THE hundredth anniversary of the Battle of Ingavon, one of the long series of battles during the years that Bolivia was taking shape politically and geographically, is commemorated in a newly available series of Bolivian stamps.

Although the anniversary fell in 1941, the stamps, printed in London by the photogravure process, were slow in getting into use because of wartime transportation difficulties. The stamps are oblongs, all showing a cavalry charge, and the values are: 15 centavos, brown; 45c, violet; 1.25B, violet; 1.50B, emerald; 2.00B, brown-black; 2.10B, light blue, and 3.00B, orange.

Four souvenir sheets, perforate and imperforate, have been issued for the set.

A SECOND new set of Bolivian stamps, one which is very attractive, is devoted to the mining industry. The stamps include both verticals and oblongs, and show various mining scenes. They were engraved in London. Values are: 15 centavos, brown; 45c, violet; 1.25B, violet; 1.50B, emerald; 2.00B, brown-black; 2.10B, light blue, and 3.00B, orange.

FROM obscure Yemen, an independent country within Arabia, comes a new set of postage-due stamps. These are oblongs in two colors, combinations of salmon and green or salmon and blue, and show the quarter moon symbol of the Mohammedan religion. There are eight values, of 1, 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 and 20 hajisches including the 6B salmon and blue shown here. Stamps from the country are considered quite rare by collectors.

Time Your Travel

to Ease the Mid-Summer Rush

Choose the Spring Months for Needed Health and Business Trips

Correct timing takes on new importance these days—particularly when it helps vital wartime transportation. When a trip for well-earned rest or recuperation or for business is necessary, time it right—go before the mid-summer rush when travel is heavily concentrated in a two-month period or postpone your travel until after this peak season. By helping to even-up travel, you make it possible for every bus seat to work full time on every trip.

Buses will serve you better, also, if you pick mid-week days rather than week-ends—and choose, from the many daily schedules, the buses which usually have more seats available. It's smart to get this and other wartime travel information from Greyhound in advance.

Local Bank President Issues Appeal For War Loan Support

"Our government is again appealing to its citizens for more billions of dollars to help finance the terrific cost of the present war and now during the Second War Loan drive is offering Federal securities of every type to fit every type of citizen," commented E. W. Johnson, president of the Warren National Bank in discussing the present Treasury campaign which began on April 12.

"It is a privilege which I trust every citizen of Warren county will accept to the limit of his financial abilities. Out on the home front we can do a great share by lending our money."

"During April the Government is faced with the necessity of raising thirteen billions of dollars. The government must have this money to pay for food, supplies and equipment that is being sent to our boys. Regular investors, I know, will take advantage of this opportunity, but there are scores of our citizens who are either not buying War Bonds or who are not investing to the limit of their financial ability.

"Commodities are disappearing from the stores. Manufacturers are engaged in supplying our armed forces. The home front must wait and learn to live with bare necessities. Unless we do we will drive prices still higher."

"The sure way to guard against higher prices and inflation is to invest the greatest possible portion of your income in government securities."

Report Shows Rapid Increase In Girl Scout Organization

One girl in ten in Warren county between the ages of seven and 18 is a registered member of the Girl Scout organization, according to a report given by Mrs. N. K. Wendeboe, chairman of the organization committee, at the meeting of the Warren County Girl Scout Council at the Girl Scout office Tuesday.

This figure is better than the average for a community the size of Warren county, as shown on a rating sheet which has been sent to the local organization from its national headquarters. Objective of the Warren County Council is to increase the number of Girl Scouts so that one girl out of five will be active in Girl Scouting by April 1, 1944.

Mrs. William Glassman, coordinator for the membership drive, sketched the work being done by committees in the campaign to recruit Girl Scout and Brownie Scout leaders as the first step in the drive.

The Girl Scout camp committee is actively engaged in preparations for the summer season at Camp Birdsall Edey, engaging a camp staff and repairs to buildings being the immediate concern of the committee.

Training for leaders of intermediate troops to be held at the Y. W. C. A. tomorrow was announced by Mrs. Harold Stohl, chairman of that committee. There is no charge for the course and it is open to any women interested.

FURTHER WAR RESTRICTIONS

ON TELEPHONE SERVICE

THE WAR PRODUCTION BOARD, on March 25, 1943, ordered further restrictions on the installation of telephone service. The purpose of the Order is to save additional critical materials, such as copper, rubber, steel and tin, which are urgently needed for the fighting forces. Under the provisions of the Order it is of particular interest that:

1 — Customers for whom service is installed on and after April 15, 1943, or who have their telephone service moved to a new address on and after that date may later have to share their lines with others or may have to give up their telephones entirely if the facilities are required to provide telephones for persons engaged in direct defense or charged with responsibility for public health, welfare or security as classified by the War Production Board in the Order.

2 — Customers whose service was installed before April 15, 1943, may also have to share their lines with others if facilities are required to provide telephones for persons engaged in direct defense or charged with responsibility for public health, welfare or security as classified in the Order.

While these restrictions may cause inconveniences to some people—part of the essential sacrifices for Victory—we are sure of your understanding and cooperation and we pledge on our part continuing effort to keep our service up to the highest possible standard.

Easter AT PENNEY'S

THIS YEAR IT'S SMART IF IT'S USEFUL

Don't overlook the importance of jacket and skirt outfits this year. They're amazingly flexible! In matching colors, they're suits. In contrasts, they're sports outfits. A dressy blouse makes them dressy—a tailored one transforms them into business garb—and a sweater makes them good for school or sports wear.

And above all, they take the every-day strain off your hard-to-replace dressier clothes.

That's why jackets and skirts play such an important role this Easter—when only the USEFUL is smart for wartime wardrobes!

TROUT SEASON OPENS IN STATE WITH SNOWFALL AND LOW TEMPERATURES

Quite a few braved the cold, snowy, terrain early this morning to go in quest of the wary trout, but at least half of these men were seen trudging homeward early, with nothing to show for their efforts but cold feet, on this opening day of trout season.

One of the most adverse days for April 15th ever experienced proved that snow and cold do not enter into the angler's mind as an accompaniment for this day of all days.

Up until noon today, several who had not cancelled their day off, still went into the woods at least a try, but returned with a hopeless contour on their faces to prove very many hours, and no limits were reported brought in.

meetings held on April 2nd and April 4th to see if directions could be passed on without confusion and the results were very satisfactory. The new test will have the added feature of speed. All members of the company are cautioned to pay strict attention to the directions received as they will be different than those given in the previous tests.

Sunday morning April 18th at 8:45 a.m. the test will be repeated so those members doing night work will have an opportunity to show their speed.

WITH JOE GARDNER

Since we started the ball rolling some days ago on the plan to stage a series of baseball games by the old timers for the benefit of USO, many and varied have been the reactions. The committee chairman reports that he has been deluged with requests from old timers who wish to participate in this proposed scheme and invariably the names are submitted with a certain feeling of mirth and admiration.

The Forge, headed by "Wasteball" Paddy Jackson has come out with flat statement—Yes they are willing and eager to chance sore muscles, lame backs, etc., for the good of the cause but they want to pick their own club of ex-has-beens and challenge the Warren gang to do likewise—and mind you, they promise to wallop the rompers of Paddy's gang in the coming series.

This rash statement on the part of the boys down river brings to mind a certain day way back many years ago when the county championship was fought for on the old fair grounds. The semi-final game was between the Irvine crew and the State Hospital with no holds barred—each team was supposed to use their very own players and no ringers—Fortunately it was at the tail end of the baseball season so the Forgers stuck to the rules by hiring one "Art" Johnson who had just returned from Beaumont in the Texas League and the Hospital, not to be outdone, acquired the services of a Jamestown boy who had been working for the Webbmen by name of Nate Dreyer. To say the least it was a nice quiet game slightly outdone in noise and scrapping by a full scale commando raid.

Well do we remember the incident that started the first fight when the older Giegrich was accused of trying to step on the hand of our pitcher after laying down a bunt along the first base line.

To make a long story short, the incident that has caused all of the rivalry between Irvine and Warren took place in the 8th inning of this game with two men out Poppelton on second the score tied 2 and 2. Up comes Paddy who was doing the catching for the Forgers.

After looking over two strikes with his bat over his shoulder Paddy closed his eyes and lunged after a waste ball so high that some of the fans said he jumped off the ground two feet in order to get anywhere near it—and got a hit driving in the winning run. Now we ask you is this the way to play our national pastime in an fair and honest way.

What is the use of wasting good pitching on a guy who pays it no heed and goes after the bad ones only? We have been officially informed by "Pike" Peterson that not only is the Forgers challenge accepted but it is highly desired that when this series of battles comes off the Forgers bring along some boddle to make things more interesting for our side.

Reserves To Have A Speed Test Friday

Friday night, Warren County No. 62-A Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps Auxiliary will have a speed test of their emergency call out system. Promptly at 7:15 p.m. a series of telephone calls will be started. Three series of calls are required to reach all members of the company. Directions given consists of the place for each group to assemble whether armed or not and the procedure after assembly.

A. P. Sports Writer Picks the Dodgers to Win in National

By JUDSON BAILEY

New York, April 15.—(P)—You may have one of those plain, unadorned calendars which simply shows that today is Thursday, April 15, but we have one on our desk which shows that this is the time to predict the pennant winners in the major leagues.

Our opinion: $18.75 will get up a real war bond, but for what it is worth we give you the Brooklyn Dodgers as the probable 1943 champions of the National League.

Most of the major league experts are backing the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and in deference to the observations of our brothers in the Baseball Writers Association we will concede that this year will see another close race.

The Cardinals have a good ball club, but it is not the same outfit that beat the New York Yankees four straight in the last world John Beazley, the rookie pitcher who won 21 games in the regular season and two in the World Series.

SPORT SHORTS

Bethlehem, April 15.—(P)—Leland's three-letter sophomore, Vinny Moravec, ends his college pitching career for the duration against Lafayette at Easton April 20. Two days later the football, basketball and baseball star reports for army duty.

Philadelphia, April 15.—(P)—Jackie Floyd, national featherweight amateur boxing champion, plans to enter the professional ranks, meeting Joe Longo of Baltimore April 26.

Philadelphia, April 15.—(P)—Jack Sullivan, one-time PIAA state wrestling champion, is the most valuable member of the University of Pennsylvania wrestling team, in the judgment of the grappler's club. He was honored at a dinner last night with Captain Dick Battista, who is undefeated in 85 bouts.

Kansas City, April 15.—(P)—Andrew Ponzi of Philadelphia held a 366-point lead in his quest for his third world pocket billiards championship today at the end of his fourth block with the defending titlist, Willie Mosconi.

Philadelphia, April 15.—(P)—Led by Ollie Hunter of Erie, Pa., three Notre Dame relay teams and two individual runners are scheduled to take part in the annual Pennsylvania relay carnival April 23 and 24.

One entry will be the Irish mile squad that broke the Illinois relay mark. Director H. Jamie Swarts announced. Hunter is competing in the distance medley two-mile relay run and two-mile and four-mile relays.

SYNOPSIS: Helen Chernen, dissatisfied wife of a steel-worker, determines to get her pretty sister, Katherine—seventeen, talented and state-struck-away from the desolate Pennsylvania town. Runkel and Collins, vaudeville actors make a stop, see Katherine imitating their act for the amusement of her school pals, and Runkel praises the girl and asks her to do her dance and song for them. Helen, at first angered by Runkel's interest in the girl, is convinced that he is sincere, and sees a chance to get away. She agrees to Katherine's marriage to Runkel and when they take the train for the next town, she goes with them.

CHAPTER III

RUNKEL AND COLLINS made the hit of their lives as they stormed the show towns from one end of the country to the other. At the finish of the act it became the practice of the irrepressible Runkel to raise his hand for silence, and as the pretty and rather shy Katherine waited in the wings, to inquire breezily: "Would you like to meet the Mrs., folks? The little woman? How about it?" This was the cue for the bride's entrance. "The ball and chain!" he'd shout, clapping his hands and grinning so contagiously that the audience took it as a personal matter and went into paroxysms of delighted applause.

Unseen, but seeing all, Helen waited, silent and scheming.

They were hardly out of Grand Central before she began insisting that Paul Collins take her and Katherine to the dress shop which she had heard was the most exclusive in the Big Town. "I want Katherine—Katherine and me, too—to look as if we were born on Park Avenue," she said, "Oh I want a lot of things!"

"These days," Paul ventured, "vaudeville people have to have simple tastes."

"Katherine's not staying in vaudeville all her life! This is just a step up the ladder! By show business eight years and I always got along. If Shagreen wants Katie, it's okay. It's perfectly okay with me!" He went toward the door but Katherine ran after him and caught his arm.

"Albert, please! You talk... you talk as if you hate me!"

"Baby, don't get things mixed up. This is only business—noting at all to do with you and me. There's no hard feelings, understand that... no hard feelings!"

"I'm not letting you go... We're not breaking up the act..."

"We're not breaking up the act, Albert!"

"Oh, kid, don't worry your little head over me. I get offers. I could go back with Paul if he wants it. You go right ahead. I'm glad for you... it's okay!"

He hurried out and down the alley. "Cut it out, Al!" Paul pleaded following him and yanking at his elbow. "Go back to her, quick!"

"He wouldn't mind! After all... he's her husband!"

"Why don't you wait in the wings," Paul suggested with a sardonic smile, "and when Albert finishes his routine, blackjack him and he done with it?"

Far from discouraged, she later approached Runkel on getting rid of Paul. In the midst of the protestations of Runkel, Paul came in to borrow five dollars. "I'm going out with a lady tonight—a genuine lady!" he said with a wink at Helen.

"That'll be a novelty!" she retorted coldly, fairly successful in hiding the liking she felt for the gallivanting Collins, in spite of herself. She was well aware that she had ruined the spirit of the happy-go-lucky troupe. She knew, too, that vaudeville was dying and the bookings of the team were in cheaper and cheaper theatres. So she started a secret round of the agencies and finally got a tryout for Katherine and her husband in a night club. It failed but she received an offer from a producer to feature Katherine in a revue. She calmly told Runkel what she had done. He was delighted at first thinking that Katherine and he were to be in the act together.

"I said he wants Katherine!" Helen said, her eyes narrowing in the old way.

"It's crazy, Albert!" Katherine cried out, "Don't listen to her! It's our act or nothing!"

"I'm beginning to see some daylight around here..." he said distractingly. "I'm catching on..."

"I'm staying with you, Albert, no matter what..."

"Oh, no! Oh, you're not!" he said with a pathetic attempt at bravery. "I'm not going to hold you back! I'm not standing in your way..." He started out to get his coat. "You're making a dumb move, Al!" Paul warned him. "That grandstand stuff is silly..."

"Keep out of it, pal. I know what I'm doing. I've been in

Pattern for an Axis 'Dunkirk'

Japanese operations in the Pacific, military authorities here believe, have passed from the offensive stage to one of "aggressive defense."

Despite reports of increased enemy air activity, these authorities said today, there is little danger that the Japanese will attempt to strike against Australia or any other important United Nations bastion.

These experts said that the main concern of the Tokyo warlords is the wholesale price. The next step, freely predicted in OPA, will be to cut the wholesale prices and under the retail "markup" system that action will automatically cut retail prices.

Meanwhile, the markups are not expected to make much change in retail prices, and officials said the results could be had only on a store-by-store basis.

On cabbage, the percentage which retailers may add to wholesale cost was put at 65 per cent for independent stores with an annual business volume of less than $250,000, 54 per cent for chain stores with volume under $250,000, and 50 per cent for larger stores of either type.

On carrots, lettuce, peas, snap beans, spinach and tomatoes, the markup was set at 39 per cent for all types of retailers, although classifications were set up which may be the basis for some differentials in the future.

Retailers will be permitted to change prices, however, only once a week on Thursdays.

Prevention Of Forest Fires Campaign On

With the advent of snow this morning the trout fishermen were peed at the weather man but up at the Forestry offices the officials and towermen were fairly chortling with glee as the snow fall postponed fire dangers for the time being, at least. The wetting down that the snow fall will give the woods is worth thousands of dollars as the greatest fire dangers come through the early days of the fishing season when the tyros take to the streams and scatter matches and cigarette stubs.

The Forest Fire Volunteer Fighting Service is going forward in good shape and there have been a large number signed up for this service throughout the county. Mr. Spinney, of the Forestry service is preparing to launch a campaign of education over the county using pictures in the schools. The Department has a generator by which electricity can be furnished in schools where there are no electric lights. The pictures give the school children an idea of fire protection for the woodlands and furnish them with ideas for the combatting of forest fires.

Chance For Girls To Get Into F. B. I.

Girls who are graduates of high schools are desired by the F. B. I. for service in the finger print department. This announcement is being made in all high schools in Warren county today so that any persons interested may meet with Roy K. Moore from Pittsburgh. Mr. Moore represents the F. B. The persons selected as a result of these interviews will be given tests at an early date. Assignments will probably be in Washington, D. C. High school graduates if neither typists nor stenographers will receive a base pay of $1440 which with overtime will amount to between $1600 and $1700. Those able to type 45 words a minute start at a base pay of $1600 which with overtime will total better than $1800. Those who can take shorthand at a rate of 120 words a minute or better will receive a base wage of $1800 which with overtime will probably be in excess of $2100.
